Wounded Warrior Project Challenges Pittsburgh Community to Give Big

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20, 2017 / PRNewswire-USNewswire/ -- Pittsburgh residents will have a chance to rally behind local community foundations and support their favorite charity on Nov. 28. "Give Big" is returning to Pittsburgh, and Wounded Warrior Project® (WWP) will be among the nonprofits registered to participate in the 24-hour online giving challenge.

WWP programs and services assist injured veterans with mental health, physical health and wellness, career and benefits counseling, connecting warriors with one another and their communities, and long-term care for the most seriously wounded. Generous donors make it possible for wounded warriors to take part in connection activities and benefit from program resources at no cost to them.

When: Nov. 28, 12:00 am until 11:59 pm\
Where: https://www.givebigpittsburgh.com

"In many ways, the communities where our warriors live and work can have a significant lasting impact on their recoveries," said Gary Corless, WWP chief development officer. "Community members interact with these injured veterans daily and see their needs. That gives them a chance to understand some of the challenges warriors face when returning to civilian life, but also where they can support those Wounded Warrior Project serves. Events like this can make all the difference; we're extremely grateful for the past generosity of the Pittsburgh community. We're excited about this year's event, with the community once again helping fuel Wounded Warrior Project's mission to honor and empower Wounded Warriors."
