Partnership Connects Military Spouses, Caregivers with Employment Services

WASHINGTON, March 19, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Wounded Warrior Project® (WWP) announces a grant in support of a collaborative effort between Blue Star Families, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Foundation's Hiring Our Heroes initiative, and Military Family Advisory Network (MFAN) to connect military spouses and caregivers with employment services.

This $225,000 grant will enable these groups to provide military spouses and caregivers meaningful employment opportunities by:

- Connecting participants in Blue Star Families' Spouse and Caregivers Careers Program with Hiring Our Heroes Career Summits.
- Connecting Blue Star Families veterans and families with Hiring Our Heroes Military Spouse Economic Empowerment Zones to address employment challenges for military spouses, caregivers, and their families.
- Leveraging MFAN's expertise in building connections to local resources and enabling advisory board members to participate in Blue Star Families and Hiring Our Heroes events.

Military spouses and veteran caregivers face unique career challenges. They are employed at lower rates and earn less than their civilian counterparts. Military life comes with frequent moves, operational deployments, and long hours away that impose significant stress on families. Additionally, military bases are frequently located in areas with poor labor markets. These conditions negatively impact employment opportunities for military spouses.

"For some caregivers and spouses of transitioning service members, and veterans, there are significant economic challenges relating to employment and economic security," said WWP CEO Lt. Gen. (Ret.) Mike Linnington. "RAND research shows when military spouses and caregivers feel financially secure, whether through availability of resources or employment opportunities, the quality of life improves for everyone in that household, including the service members in their lives. We're proud to work alongside organizations affecting positive change at the grassroots level through economic empowerment initiatives that assist our nation's military families and caregivers."

"As we enter the eighteenth year of America's longest-running war, it is unacceptable that our nation's military spouses and caregivers are facing a battle on the home front to carve out economic opportunity and financial stability for themselves and their families," said Eric Eversole, president of Hiring Our Heroes, and vice president at the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. "Hiring Our Heroes is proud to work alongside Blue Star Families and the Military Family Advisory Network on the collaborative efforts made possible through this grant."

"Military families tell BSF their struggles through the Blue Star Families annual Military Family Lifestyle Survey," said Kathy Roth-Douquet, BSF Chief Executive Officer. "Just as civilian families want dual incomes, so do actively serving families and this partnership is one way we're fostering stronger communities to mitigate isolation, lend support, and increase employment opportunities for spouses."

"There isn't a one-size-fits-all solution for military spouse employment," said Shannon Razsadin, MFAN's executive director. "MFAN is grateful for Wounded Warrior Project's leadership and the opportunity to collaborate with these organizations to promote employment programs and events through our diverse network."
